

Yes, the West Stairs are Diminishing...Rain or Shine...

Workers setting up the night light, running the jackhammer, & clearing away the demolished concrete

Jan Frew, Division of Public Works Design and Construction Manager, reports that the demolition of the West Steps continues (photo above). It is a slow process, but the end is in sight – by February 28 the West Steps should be completely demolished.

Watch for scaffolding on the west side next Monday, February 25, so workers from TMC Masonry can continue stone repairs. If the weather warms just a little, they can also start on some of the more crucial spot cleaning.
